

FRENCH STEAMER IN DISTRESS

GERMAN CITY GRIPPED BY REIGN OF TERROR

FEAR OUTBREAK WILL OCCUR IN OCCUPIED TOWN

Populace Said to Be Bitterly Resentful of French Activities

NEW ANGLE VIEWED Franco-German Trust Would Affect United States It Is Said.

Berlin, Feb. 28.—A virtual reign of terror exists at Bochum, according to word from there today. The populace is said to be in a bitterly resentful mood and a serious outbreak is expected.

Berlin, Feb. 28.—Significant "feelings" looking towards Franco-German Ruhr negotiations have been exchanged in Berlin in the last 48 hours, it was learned today.

These "feelings" have an important American angle. Indeed, if the proposition that has been broached should be realized it would mean France would pay its war debts to England and America with shares of a proposed gigantic Franco-German industrial formation. Such a trust is the basis for the secret conferences that have been going on.

It should be emphasized that, according to the best information obtainable by the newspapers, that on the German side these feelers were neither inspired nor participated in by German industrialists.

On the contrary the latter have remained painstakingly aloof from all peace negotiations up to the present juncture. The German banking world, however is understood to be actively interested in the pourparlers.

Discusses Matter.
It is learned on the best authority that a prominent Berlin banker discussed the subject with the nephew of a leading French statesman who was sent here as an official French spokesman. The plan as outlined is the amalgamation of the Saar, Lorraine and Ruhr industries under a scheme which it is asserted would go a long way towards solving the Franco-German reparations problem.

France's part in the proposed trust would be state property. France would then turn over a considerable block of its shares in trust to America and England as payment of her war debt. It was learned that when this basis had been tentatively accepted by negotiators a hitch developed over the question of the extent of pooling the industrial wealth. The French demanded that the amalgamation not only cover all the raw materials and semi-finished products but insisted that finished goods be included in the bargain. The Germans objected, arguing that this would be an uneven deal. The Germans claimed German manufacture is much superior to the French. The Germans held that the deal should include raw materials and possibly semi-finished products but should end there. The next few days are expected to show how tangible and practicable the above feelers have been found by both sides.

Essen, Feb. 28.—All the best hotels, cafes, restaurants, shops and theaters at Bochum were closed and French soldiers in armored cars are holding all the streets leading to the shopping centers.

A French general declared that orders had come from the Berlin government for a boycott of the French, and that as a result all the telephone and telegraph communications have been cut. So the French officials closed the postoffice as punishment for the merchants, who were responsible for the hostilities. The French, said this general, decided if the Germans would not sell to the occupying forces, they would not be allowed to sell to anybody. A complete blockade was declared by the French.

It was reported that 400 Belgian troops entered Emmerich, a German post on the right bank of the Rhine, and also occupied the customs office at Beek, near the Belgian-Dutch frontier.

The interallied commission has decided that the military sentences imposed by the tribunals in the Rhineland will be served in allied prisons instead of German jails.

Angora Government Plays O. K. On Lausanne Document

PEACE SEEMS CERTAIN

Britain Ignores Request for Six Months' Delay For Answer

Constantinople, Feb. 28.—The Angora government has agreed to accept the Lausanne treaty with the exception of the financial and economic clauses, according to Turkish advices from Angora.

Earlier advices from Angora had said that although the economic clauses of the treaty provided an obstacle to the outlook for a favorable settlement was better today. Many of the officials believed peace is assured.

Ismet Pasha discussed a proposal with the cabinet that the treaty be signed with the stipulation that the economic and financial questions be reserved for discussion after six months.

Turkish troops encamped opposite the British lines at Ismid are reported to have sent this message to the British: "If you hear firing don't be alarmed as we merely will be celebrating the signing of peace."

London, Feb. 28.—Foreign office officials announced today that Great Britain would make no reply to the Turkish proposal that a six months' delay be granted on the financial and economic terms of the Lausanne treaty until the proposal is officially presented.

SAY JEALOUSY CRIME MOTIVE IN NEW YORK

Woman Believed Wilful Murderer of Wealthy Eastern Contractor

New York, Feb. 28.—Desperate efforts to secure the release of Mrs. Anna Buzzi, held as a material witness in the murder of Frederick Schneider, on a writ of habeas corpus will be made this afternoon by James Donnelly, her counsel.

New York, Feb. 28.—Jealousy of a woman over attentions paid by Frederick Schneider to an employee in his office is believed by police to be an important factor in the chain of events which led to the mysterious murder of the wealthy contractor, whose body was found seated in his car on a lonely road in the Bronx Monday evening.

This fact was learned today when detectives assigned to the investigation revealed that they had discovered that Mrs. Anna Buzzi, held under $25,000 bail as a material witness in the case, became furious when she learned that he had taken one of his girl employees riding.

He also disclosed that in small memorandum book found on his body Schneider had written: "She threatened to throw hot soup in my face. I've never heard a female use such vile language."

There was nothing in the book to show whom the note concerned. While operatives are pursuing this clue and also investigating the history of the 38 calibre Colt revolver, which has been traced from the factory to the state armory at Toledo, O., Mrs. Buzzi paces the floor of her cell, alternately raging and weeping.

When she learned of the statement made by Harry Shidrowitz, who with Nicholas Fuelner, a farmer, was the last person to see the death car on the evening of the murder, Mrs. Buzzi became frantic.

"I saw Schneider's car moving out toward Clason Point road about 4:30 o'clock," Shidrowitz had said, Anna Buzzi was driving. We did not speak. "He's a liar—he's a liar," the woman shrieked.

Henry Ford, vitally interested in the conference as the world's biggest tire consumer, could be counted on for $50,000,000, according to his friends, while Harvey S. Firestone, multi-millionaire tire producer, is willing to

U. S. WILL NOT BE HELD UNDER LEAGUE COURT

State Department Answers Borah Resolution Asking For Information.

IS NOT COMPULSORY

Arbitration of International Disputes Will Be Optional.

Washington, Feb. 28.—The United States has no intention of going into the world court of justice, set up at the Hague under the League of Nations, on a "compulsory arbitration" basis, it was officially declared at the State Department today with reference to the Borah resolution, asking for more information concerning the plans of President Harding and Secretary of State Hughes.

Neither it was stated, does the United States contemplate any negotiations with foreign powers toward an agreement to submit all international disputes to the league court.

Senator Borah's request for "more information" concerning the administration's plans, which is backed by the members of the foreign relations committee generally, will be fully complied with, it was said at the department. Secretary Hughes holds the opinion that "compulsory arbitration" is neither desirable or possible in view of the traditional policy of the United States. Also, it was pointed out the big world powers have not agreed to submit all their disputes to the league court, and there is little likelihood of their doing so.

CHICAGO MAYORALTY RACE NARROWS DOWN TO TWO CONTESTANTS

Lueder or Dever Will Win Position, Returns Indicate

Chicago, Feb. 28.—The next mayor of Chicago will be either Arthur C. Lueder, Republican or Judge William F. Dever, Democrat.

Complete returns compiled today in yesterday's primary election showed that Lueder won by a commanding vote in the four-cornered G. O. P. race. Judge Dever had no opposition.

William Hale Thompson, the incumbent, did not enter the race. Friends of both Lueder and Dever today predicted victory for their candidate in the April mayoralty election.

Chicago is normally Democratic, although its present mayor, Thompson, is a Republican. The Republican race for the mayoralty nomination was an interesting affair. Lueder polled nearly 43 per cent of the Republican vote. His top rival, Edward R. Litsinger, his nearest rival, by 54,144. Arthur M. Millard, head of the Masonic bureau of service and employment finished third and Judge Bernard P. Barasa, the "beer and wine" aspirant fourth. The vote was:

Lueder 128,704; Litsinger 74,560; Millard 51,054, and Barasa 46,690. The total Republican vote was 301,008.

The Democrats gave Judge Dever a complimentary vote of 165,351.

The selection of the socialist party was William A. Cunnea.

FIGURES IN DRY LEAGUE INVESTIGATED

F. E. Cartwright.

W. H. Anderson.

William H. Anderson, New York State Superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, is the central figure in two important investigations. One is being made by the District Attorney, in New York City, into charges that Anderson forced fund solicitors to "split" their commissions with him. The other is an Albany investigation into charges that the Anti-Saloon League is a political body and should therefore be compelled to make public accounting of its receipts and expenditures, about which there has been so much secrecy. The Rockefeller, who formerly practically supported the league, have withdrawn financial support from it and have demanded that Anderson make complete accounting. Frank E. Cartwright, of Corning, New York, brought about the second investigation through his attorney Col. Ransom Gillette, World War hero, charging that he was beaten for the Assembly by the influence of the League. Ex-State Senator Brackett is Anderson's attorney.

FIRE AGAIN SWEEPS OVER RESORT AT BUCKEYE LAKE

Origin of Blaze, East of Park Unknown—Loss Estimated at $68,000—Six Cottages Are Destroyed Early Wednesday

Newark, O., Feb. 28.—Fire of unknown origin starting in a corner of the sixty-room apartment house, at Buckeye Lake shortly after midnight last night destroyed six cottages and badly damaged a seventh together with contents, entailing a total loss of $68,000. There is no fire fighting apparatus at the lake, and the volunteer firemen, two hundred in number were helpless to combat the flames. The structures, all modern, and belonging to Charles Klotz, were reduced to ashes. The location of the fire is just north of the figure eight and east of Buckeye Lake Park.

The sixty-room apartment in which the fire started, was valued at $26,000. The contents are said to have been worth $10,000. Four two-story cottages valued at $4,000 each, and one of these occupied by William Johns and family of six, and a sixteen-room cottage, occupied by Mrs. Virgil Voorhees and four children were all reduced to ashes, together with the contents.

This is the biggest fire that ever visited Buckeye Lake and the second big blaze in the past month, which coupled with the fire before the cyclone, and the cyclone itself, all within nine months has entailed a loss of a million dollars. Mr. Klotz left this morning for Columbus to buy a fully equipped electric pumper, which he will place at the disposal of residents at the lake as there is no other means of fighting fire except the small extinguishers. Outside help was impossible owing to the impassable condition of the roads between this city and the lake.

INCREASE IN CRIME EXPECTED TO FOLLOW CUT IN LIGHTING

Suburban Areas of Cincinnati To Suffer Curtailment

Cincinnati, Feb. 28.—Booms in the sale of flashlights, lanterns and torches, perhaps with an increase in crime, are expected to be among the results that will accrue to Cincinnati because of a rule decreed by the city authorities to cut lighting service in the suburban areas.

Facing a deficit of approximately $250,000, Service Director Charles F. Hornberger has ordered 4,634 street lights to be discontinued, hoping thereby to effect a saving of $53,299 before the end of the year.

Moonlight will be the only aid to beleated pedestrians in residential districts, as in certain suburbs as many as 48 lights are to be shut off.

Half the lamps on all bridges and viaducts, as well as numerous small lights at crossings, will be affected by the order of Director Hornberger.

The business sections will escape the darkening process, as boulevard lighting systems are supported by merchants independently of the city. The director announced that the next efforts at extreme economy would be made in regard to the garbage removal, which may involve more serious phases because of state laws regarding pollution of streams, including the Ohio river.

JAMMED IN ICE NEAR HALIFAX: CALLS FOR AID

American Passengers on Vessel Fast in Northern Waters on Wednesday

WATER SUPPLY LOW

Fuel Becoming Exhausted; Government Boat Goes To Rescue.

Halifax, Feb. 28.—The French steamer Pro Patria with several American passengers aboard has sent out S. O. S. calls. She gave her position as 70 miles south of St. Pierre. She has been for four days jammed in an ice field and has lost three blades of her propeller and suffered other damages. The message stated:

"The supply of fresh water is low and her supply of fuel is running low."

The government ice breaker Stanley has gone to her assistance.

The Stanley a dominion government boat, was sent to the Pro Patria's assistance at the request of American consul Gonsalus, who had been appealed to by the governor of Misoulon, following the failure of the steamer Sable to reach the disabled vessel.

It will take two and a half days for the Stanley to reach the Pro Patria.

HARDING SIGNS SMOOT-BURTON DEBT MEASURE

President's Signature Concluding Act of Official Actions

Washington, Feb. 28.—President Harding today signed Smoot-Burton bill under which Congress approved the plan by which Great Britain will pay her $4,600,000,000 war debt to the United States during the next 62 years.

The president's signature was the concluding act in the long string of official actions necessary to the settlement of the greatest single war debt.

The president signed the bill, as soon as it reached the White House from the capitol. There was no ceremony.

Negotiations for funding the big British debt to the United States were conducted here between Chancellor Stanley Baldwin of the British exchequer, Governor Norman of the bank of England and the American debt commission, headed by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon. In establishing the debt commission congress had stipulated that all of the money owed this government by European powers—approximately $11,000,000,000—should be paid within 25 years and that it should draw interest at not less than 4 1/2 per cent.

The British representatives immediately objected to the high rate of interest, and the comparatively short maturity date and after various funding plans were discussed, an agreement was reached under which Great Britain will pay 3 per cent interest for the first 10 years and 3 1/2 per cent thereafter until the debt is extinguished.

LEGION HEADS SEEK REFORMS FOR VETERANS

Washington, Feb. 23.—"Humane" treatment of ex-service men, cutting of useless "red tape," speeding up of adjustment of compensation claims and other reforms in the administration of the veteran's bureau, will be demanded by national officials of the American Legion, spokesmen for the legion declared here.

This declaration came close on the heels of the announcement from the white house of the nomination of Brigadier General Frank T. Hines, former regular army officer, to succeed Colonel Charles R. Forbes as director of the bureau.

National Commander Owsley arrived in Washington and announced that a conference of legion heads would be held to outline the reforms to be demanded, which will be presented to the new director probably Thursday, the day he is due to assume office.

Legion men are frank in stating that they are not pleased with the appointment. It is not that they object to General Hines personally, but they object to any regular army officer heading up the bureau. They contend that the mixing of "army red tape" with the "red tape" that already handicaps the smooth running of the bureau will tend to complicate rather than clarify the operations.

It was intimated that there will be a wholesale house cleaning in the veterans' bureau when the new director takes charge, not only in the Washington offices, but in the several district offices over the country.

The selection of General Hines, it was learned, was made on the recommendation of General Pershing, who, as commander of the American expeditionary forces, had opportunity to observe his ability as an organizer and executive. As head of the transport division of the army General Hines moved more than 2,000,000 troops to France in 18 months and returned them in eight months.

General Sawyer, the president's physician and head of the hospitalization committee, urged the appointment of Dr. Hugh T. Scott, former executive officer of the bureau, who recently was demoted and placed in charge of a soldiers' hospital in Oklahoma by Director Forbes. Dr. Scott also had the endorsement of a number of legion leaders. Legion spokesmen declared they would continue to insist on a full and complete investigation of the bureau, particularly concerning rumors of graft that have been prevalent in recent weeks.

SHIPPING BOARD TO SELL FLEET; 400 CRAFT UP

Washington, Feb. 23.—Failure of the senate to act on the shipping bill has decided the Harding administration to liquidate the business of the shipping board, sell its 393 ships and put the American merchant marine entirely into private ownership, the white house announced.

This policy will be carried out before congress reconvenes.

The white house spokesman said the president is frankly and very greatly disappointed that the senate, with a normal majority in favor of the shipping bill, could not function so as to express itself. But the administration, it was stated, will not permit the failure of the senate to "put it in a state of pique or pettiness." It will do the best it knows how without the aid of congress and the best that can be done under a policy of liquidation, to further the American merchant marine in private hands.

What was said at the white house outlines a program which Chairman Lasker of the shipping board characterized as a project which would be "as novel as it would be surprising, but nevertheless practical."

It can be said in advance of any official announcement, on the authority of one of the president's closest advisers, that the great fleet of ships now controlled by the United States shipping board will be sold to private interests at amazingly low figures. This will be hard on the United States treasury, it was admitted, but it was pointed out that it was the only effective substitute for a subsidy in aid of an American merchant marine, under whatever ownership, which could be devised.

Sale of the 393 ships now under the flag of the shipping board at prices far below their cost, it is considered, will offset the losses endured by American shippers in competition with British and other shipping interests that are able to operate at lower costs by reason of the higher American standard. Chairman Lasker said that he would make public the detailed program of the liquidation plan Monday morning.

More than 700 pints of whisky were confiscated. The two men, jailed on charges of transporting liquor, were booked as J. Gorman and Joe Frinkle, Cleveland.

By Wones

The Witte-Reliables of Dayton failed to live up to the advance hope handed out about them and the result was that the fast Autos of this city, swamped them by a 48 to 27 score, in the main mill at the Central High gym Tuesday night.

The game had not been under way very long when Barlow looped one through followed up by another. Solimano tossed one and Barlow caged two in rapid succession, while Koesler threw a long one and Barlow snagged another before the visitors broke the ice when Wirtz caged one. With Barlow and Solimano hitting the net the Famous gang soon piled up comfortable lead. The only doubt connected with the game was just how large the score would be. When the timer's whistle blew ending the first half the locals were on the long end of a 27 to 12 score.

The second half was a little better exhibition. The Witte gang came back strong and with Davis and Wirtz locating the net frequently they scored 15 points while the Autos made just one better. The passwork and basket shooting of Coach Heller's pill tossers was the feature of the game. Barlow and Solimano were the stars for the locals with 8 fielders apiece. Koesler counted 3 times from the field while Koehly and Solowitz each caged one. Davis, Breig and Wirtz were the stellar performers for the Reliables.

The old rivals furnished an interesting game, Zeigler, the Wilmington flash, starting brilliantly. This lad ran up 23 points, ten of them from the free throw line, "Fuzz" Vannorsdall, former Central High star of this city, contributed 14 points to his team's total. The lineup and summary:

JERSEY MAN BUYS "HAREM" FOR $100

New York, Feb. 23.—Frank Menussa, twenty-five years old, of Iomestead, N. J., is looking for the stranger from whom he bought a harem of six pretty girls and for which he paid $100 in cash.

Frank was seated in a trolley car at Hoboken when a nice-looking stranger spoke to him and called his attention to two pretty girls whom he said were part of his harem. He had four more at an address at No. 45 Hill street, Iomestead, he explained and that he was forced to leave them because he was called away on a trip to the West.

Would Frank buy them? Frank would and did. He handed over $100. As he did so he noticed that the two girls across the way were leaving the car. The stranger assured him that they were not running away; that they were simply timid because they had left their veils behind. Frank believed and exulted in his purchase until he tried to find No. 45 Hill Street. There was no house within sight.

Frank now believes he was flimflammed.

WOMEN TENNIS STARS ARE NOW RACING FOR NEW CHAMPIONSHIP; WORLD'S POOREST SPORTSMANSHIP

Monte Carlo, Feb. 23.—Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory, of the United States and Mlle Suzanne Lenglen, of France, women tennis champions, are racing for a new championship—that of the world's poorest sportsman—in the opinion of tennis fans gathered here today for the Riviera tournaments.

Mrs. Mallory, putting forth the alibi of bronchitis, postponed signing an entry blank until the last minute. On the day after Mrs. Mallory entered Mlle Suzanne withdrew from the singles, giving the excuse that her heart was bothering her again.

Mlle Lenglen told friends that her ankles were bothering her also. There was sarcastic comment in the Monte Carlo hotel lobbies that Suzanne's heart and ankles probably would improve after she learned of Mrs. Mallory's poor showing in the opening match. The American woman had a difficult time defeating Miss Hewitt, an English girl. The scores were 14-12; and 7-5.

After a statement was read by Bishop Thomas Nicholson, Chicago, president of the anti-saloon league of America, explaining why William H. Anderson, superintendent of the New York anti-saloon league, was unable to be present, Bishop Nicholson and other national dry leaders joined in voicing confidence in Supt. Anderson's honesty.

CLEVELAND SEEKING G. O. P. CONVENTION

Cleveland, Feb. 23.—With sixty-eight Republican organizations in Greater Cleveland uniting in a guarantee of all convention expenses, plans were definitely under way here today to secure the Republican national convention of 1924, at which it is expected a native son of the Buckeye State will be renominated for President.

Committees began work today soliciting funds to back up the promises made by those who will represent the city when the national committee meets early next year to select the convention city.

Cleveland's public hall, said to be the largest and best structure of its kind in the United States was expected to prove a potent argument.

HOUSE EXPECTED TO CAST VOTE ON TAFT TAX MEASURE

Columbus, Feb. 23.—The House is expected to vote today on the question of passing the Taft tax bill which seeks to amend the Smith one per cent tax act by reducing the maximum tax rate in rural districts two mills and permitting a boost of two mills in the tax rates in cities and villages, placing sinking fund and interest charges outside all limitations, and providing for a local budget system for adjusting differences between local sub divisions.

The bill has been amended in the House so as to provide that, if the tax duplicate is increased by reappraisals of property, limitations shall be reduced from 17 and 14 to 15 and 12 mills, making the county budget commission consist of the county auditor, treasurer and prosecuting attorney, as at present and making more liberal the restriction on bond issues for road purposes.

Lingerie collars, which have been conspicuously absent from the mode for some time, are coming back into prominence. Only the severest necklines have until now been smart. Now the neck of the most modish frock may be relieved by the softening influence of a crisp organdy collar with embroidered notes. A bateau neckline may adorn itself with an embroidered net collar created expressly for this type, and there is a deep bib collar for the frock that is weary of the bateau line. This model, too, is of net, trimmed with Blige lace. And last of all—and newest—is the lace kerchief, which should make the simplest frock a thing of charm.

FEDERAL RESERVE BOARD ADVOCATES CO-OPERATIVE PLAN

Urges it as Best Solution of Problem That Have Grippled Farming

Washington, Feb. 28.—The Federal Reserve Board, nerve center of the country's financial structure, today came out flatly in favor of cooperative marketing as the one best method of relieving distress that has gripped agriculture for the past two years.

In its annual report to congress today, the board said; cooperative marketing offered the best solution of the difficulties faced by American farmers, and that it must be accomplished through relaxation of present banking laws governing farm credits. The board reported that it has not been possible for the Federal Reserve System to extend the measure of credit relief to the farmer that was needed, in circumstances of acute distress, because of the iron-clad restrictions of the Federal Reserve act. The board urged that Congress do something immediately to ameliorate the situation. The board believed the broad provisions of the Capper bill would meet the situation allowing rediscout of farmers' paper for longer periods of time.

Acting Gov. Edmund Platt informed Congress that the farmer has suffered the greatest loss of all classes in the country's industrial structure and must have a more adequate share of credit possibilities.

Reviewing the country's progress, Gov. Platt placed special emphasis upon the farmers better showing in the last few months, because as he suggested, the farmers' spending power means progress all along the line of business activity. The farm value of most of the important crops was larger than in the previous year, owing both to greater yields and higher prices.

But farm prices still are out of line with other prices, Platt said, pointing out that the farmer today must pay more for what he buys than any other elements of the country, because the product of his labor will buy less in proportion to that of other classes. The farmer's disadvantage today was thus explained:

"Incompleteness of agricultural revival as compared with recovery which has recently taken place in the industrial world is partly explained by the disorganization of European markets, since the price of agricultural products are more dependent on export demand than prices of other classes of commodities."

THE MINORITY RULES.

In Washington they say the Ship Subsidy Bill is doomed. Its friends have faltered under the fire of the filibusters. They are flying the milk-white flag of surrender to the motley crew of short-grass radicals and barn-lot patriots who cannot see beyond the corn rows and red silos of the Mid-West and the cotton patches of the South. The hill-billy patriot and the one-gallused statesmen from the forks of the creeks have whipped the Republican Party and made it kiss the lash.

Whether it is a good bill or a bad one, the ship-subsidy measure has been doomed without a hearing and sentenced without trial by a drumhead court-martial. If it is a bad bill, this Nation will never know, through Senate debates, wherein it was bad. If it is a good bill, its goodness will never be made known by this Senate.

It is an amazing situation. Here is a measure dealing with a problem of national importance. We have a merchant fleet built when time counted and dollars did not count. It has cost us hundreds of millions since the war and is now swallowing $50,000,000 a year. Government ownership and operation have failed. We need ships. Without them we are at the mercy of foreign keels. The Administration bill that is being filibustered to death in the Senate was drawn because something must be done, some way out found.

Therefore a shamed and apologetic Republican Party must face the voter, admitting it is not master in its own house and is afraid or unable to face an issue that should be faced and fought out. Is it any wonder the Nation welcomes the passing of the Sixty-seventh Congress, rejoices because there will be no special session and looks with foreboding to the sessions of the Sixty-eighth? Or that it is afraid of hill-billy statesmanship?—Public Ledger.

REVIVING SPELLING BEES.

In a community which prides itself on its live school system, the supervisor of elementary subjects has announced an all-year drive for better spelling. There are to be contests and persistent activity in behalf of correct spelling in all the lower grades, concluded with a final try-out in the high school building at the end of the school year. As a spur to continued interest pennants are offered, which will mark the progress of different grades and buildings through the months.

This drive has many things to commend it. First of all, of course, spelling does need improvement. Parents, teachers and employers have been shaking their heads for years in despair at the brand of spelling turned out by the public schools. Many have asked, "What's wrong?" Some have suspected that the answer was the absence of the old-fashioned spell-down, which gave not only keen interest and competition in spelling, but continued practice as well.

DENTAL CHAIR STORIES.

A New York woman magazine writer recently had some dental work done that cost $18. While in the enameled chair of painless dentistry she evolved a storyette in which a bejeweled lady of ermine was the heroine and a poor struggling dentist from the corned-beef and cabbage atmosphere of a Harlem flat was the clown. She sold it for $75.

Her closest lady friend who batters the keys of a typewriter for a newspaper syndicate took exception to the idea of any modern dentist possessing a corned-beef and cabbage home environment or having the characteristics of the boob pictured in the magazine tale. She at once rattled out for her syndicate a humorous pastelle on dentists living in fine apartments and for which she was paid $50.

Knowing both of those estimable ladies, we now have a paragraph showing how a toothache plus imagination was made to yield a net profit of $107, in which the dentist did not share.—Exchange.

IMPROVEMENT OF THE LAW.

There was opened in Washington yesterday a conference of jurists and lawyers representing the ablest men in the legal profession in the United States, called to consider ways and means for the improvement of the law. The meeting promises to be momentous in its results in removing one of the gravest causes of popular dissatisfaction with the work of the courts and of the widespread distrust of legal processes as they work out in practice. It was inspired by a broad and far-reaching vision of service to mankind.

This movement, to which Chief Justice Taft, the Chief Justices of most of the State Supreme Courts and Judges and lawyers of experience and national distinction have given their adherence, has a remote connection only with the kindred effort in which the bar associations of the country, State and national, have been engaged for years to bring about a simplification of court procedure and the removal of the technicalities and delays which have closed the doors of the temple of justice to so many of the people seeking the protection of the laws.

It is a reproach and an anomaly that there should be uncertainty where men look for equity and justice. If the American Law Institute shall contribute to the removal of that element of reproach, it will have achieved an end worthy of the highest ideals of the legal profession and of inestimable benefit to the coming generations.

Kidney and bladder irritations often result from acidity, says a noted authority. The kidneys help filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it may remain to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread; the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is often one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Begin drinking lots of soft water, also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast. Continue this for two or three days. This will help neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs, which then act normal again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by acid irritation. Jad Salts causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which may quickly relieve your bladder irritation. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is often one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Begin drinking lots of soft water, also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast. Continue this for two or three days. This will help neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs, which then act normal again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by acid irritation. Jad Salts causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which may quickly relieve your bladder irritation. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

Kidney and bladder irritations often result from acidity, says a noted authority. The kidneys help filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it may remain to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. DEFECTS
There are many who have eyes for nothing but defects.

As soon as they meet a new human being, they immediately set out to pick him or her to pieces.

If their attention is called to something unusually beautiful, their very attitude is one of criticism, as though they should be called upon to appreciate anything!

I have learned that by paying no attention to the defects of my friends, I am able to see their virtues with added ease and besides I am too conscious of my own defects.

Hunt for beauty wherever you go under whatever condition you may be placed.

Defects are depressing. One thing we know is that they are ever present in everybody and everything—no matter where we go.

It often happens that defects merely act as a blind to guard some strange, unusual trait of beauty, to keep it free from common injury.

Even the diamond gives little of its dazzling beauty until its outside, unbecomingly, but protective covering, is removed after long and patient polishing.

Life's biggest job is discovering and ridding ourselves of defects.

And no one knows our defects as we do.

Therefore we should study our own and not other's.

What a big job a man has anyway, if he would fulfil his destiny aright! He doesn't have to worry about there being too little of anything that is wonderful. All life is wonderful. And it wouldn't be a livable life without defects to emphasize all virtue.

STORAGE BUILDING DAMAGED BY FIRE

Mystery surrounds the origin of a fire that nearly destroyed a paper storage shed in the rear of the Gazette building, South Detroit Street, shortly after ten o'clock Tuesday night.

The building was a mass of flames by the time the fire department was notified and firemen were unable to determine whether the blaze started from a spark lighting on the roof or had become ignited from the inside. Baled waste paper, patent cores on which print paper is wound and a paper baling machine, included contents damaged.

The building is owned by the Chew Publishing Company. The loss will not be great.

GLOVES AND SHOES

A wise woman once remarked that the art of living consisted in the proper management of details. The same might be said of the art of looking beautiful.

The only difficulty lies in knowing these little details. This special woman had a most inadequate income, yet she spent less money making her house attractive than most women spend making their cluttered and ugly.

She spent less money on a few simple ter of personal beauty.

The feet are one detail and the hands another. And the way in which these are dressed makes all the difference as to whether they are good looking or not.

A man once wrote that a woman with beautiful hands and feet could never be homely. In this age when glove making and shoe making has never been so well done there is no reason why every woman should not possess good looking hands and feet.

Therefore, you should pay the greatest attention to these two details of the toilet.

Do not buy fancy shoes which are in questionable taste and which make the feet unduly prominent. But plain shoes and good shoes, cheap ones are worthless and by far the most extravagant in the end. You had better put all the money into one good pair of black buttoned shoes and wear them the entire season, than to buy three pairs made of shoddy material. And the same principle applies to choosing gloves.

Miss C. D.—The water that you have put on your hair has not caused this attack of dandruff. So small an amount should be beneficial during these months when we live indoors with so much artificial heating.

I am inclined to think that the shampoo you are using is too severe, as I have known other cases where the hair becomes very dry and brittle while the scalp took days to recover after the shampoo. Try an olive oil soap for shampooing and the night previous rub plenty of oil into the scalp. This may be all that is needed to cure you of this attack.

Suffered Half His Life from Stomach Trouble. Found Great Relief from Taking Ka-di-ok.

Mr. Andrew Arney, a well-known resident of Grove City, O., whose occupation is that of caretaker at Greenlawn Cemetery, where he has been employed for the past nineteen years, is another Ka-di-ok convert. In reciting his experience with this remedy, he says: "I have had more or less trouble with my stomach for the past thirty years and have tried everything that I thought would help me, but nothing I ever took did me as much good as Ka-di-ok. It certainly has helped me wonderfully. Before taking Ka-di-ok a few weeks ago, I never ate a meal without suffering from gas or pains from indigestion. I have been eating good meals lately and enjoying them, and so long as I took a dose of Ka-di-ok afterwards I have felt all right and have had no trouble with my stomach at all. I am stronger and feel better than I have done for a long time. I sleep regularly and get up rested. Ka-di-ok has been a blessing to me, and I would not be without it for anything. I may not find it necessary to take it all the time, but I am perfectly willing to do so if it continues to help me the way it has done. My advice to any stomach sufferer is to try Ka-di-ok. I feel very confident they will not be disappointed."

SOUL WINNING IS TOPIC TUESDAY AT TRIANGLE MEETING

A marked increase in the enthusiasm was characteristic of the Triangle Evangelistic service Tuesday night at the First Reformed Church. The attendance was increased also in spite of the unfavorable weather.

A testimony service featured the opening moments, after which Rev. R. E. Brown, pastor of the Baptist Church read the scriptures and Rev. Furstberger of the Friends Church led in prayer.

Reports from the cottage prayer meetings indicated a good attendance and interest at these homes of prayer. The enthusiasm at the afternoon hour at the meeting for women, led by Mrs. Stewart, and for the children led by Mr. Stewart was intensely interesting.

Rev. W. E. Middleton was the preacher for the evening, and chose as his theme, "Resources of Power for Soul-Winning," using as the basis of his sermon the words of the woman at the well, as she conversed with Jesus, saying "The Well is Deep."

The preacher emphasized the fact that the one business of the church and Christian people is to be soul-winners, and the power for such work is found only through Jesus, who is the source of all power, and in whom the fullness of the Godhead dwelt bodily. He named four essentials to securing this power or soul winning:

1. Prayer. It was prayer that gave the early church success. It was prayer that enabled the Master himself to win. The great victory of Calvary was preceded by his greater victory on his face in Gethsemane, as he prayed, "not my will but thine be done." Prayer through His name, means victory, for it pleased the Father, that in Christ, all fullness should dwell. The Church shall advance only as she advances on her knees.

2. A recognition of the Holy Spirit in the believer, for with His presence, victory is assured, and without Him, nothing can be accomplished. It is the Holy Spirit's presence and power that transforms life.

3. The Word of God, for the gospel is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth.

4. Personal Testimony. Every Christian witnessing to the power and blessedness of this great salvation. Telling others. No revival has ever come without such witnessing, and it will come again when as His witnesses we tell what he has done. This is the Divine method.

Following the sermon, Mr. Stewart sang, "The Story of Jesus, can Never Grow Old." Cottage prayer meetings were held during the forenoon as announced in the press and Thursday they will be held in the following homes: Mrs. H. H. Favy, 106 W. Market Street; Mrs. W. L. Miller, N. Detroit Street; Mrs. J. J. Stout, 302 Hill Street and Rev. W. H. Tifford, 102 E. Market Street. Neighbors and friends are invited to these meetings.

AMERICA'S PROBLEM, DECLARES HAYNES, IS LAW ENFORCEMENT

Columbus, Feb. 28.—"The greatest problem confronting America today in my humble judgment, is the positive and definite determination by this generation of Americans whether, or not, we are able to make and enforce our own laws," declared Federal Prohibition Commissioner Roy A. Haynes.

"Appealing to Ohioans to co-operate with the federal prohibition enforcement officials, Commissioner Haynes asserted that the state and federal forces should have the loyal co-operation of officials in the smaller political sub divisions.

"Ohio has been a pioneer in advancing many features of new legislation," he continued. Legislators of this state have put into concrete form much such legislation when still untried in other parts of the country.

"Law never leads civilization but always follows in its wake. But the relations of men to each other precede even law," Mr. Haynes said. "As a people we have nothing to fear from without. No great foreign foe is preparing to jump at us with sudden ruthlessness. The enemy that is to be feared is a subtle one. One that, under a guise of non observance of the law, threatens to undermine the very fundamentals which have been responsible for the growth, prosperity and happiness of our country.

"We cannot permit the open violation of any specific law without at the same time fostering the spirit of anarchy that will eventually hold all law in contempt and disrepute.

"That it is difficult at this hour to enforce prohibitory laws we do not deny, and that there are violations of the law we do not doubt. To nullify the prohibitory laws or to repeal them will cure no evils that arise from the liquor traffic, but you will set a precedent and make it more easy to nullify any law.

"Under the eighteenth amendment, the states and federal government have concurrent power in its enforcement. All but two of the states have adopted appropriate legislation and assume their part of the responsibility. Mayors of cities, county prosecutors, chiefs of police, governors of states and other local officials are co-operating with the federal authorities more and more.

"This co-operation is my appeal to Ohio. I am confident that very soon these various forces will become better co-ordinated and that very rapidly the larger cities will begin to assume their part of the burden as well as your county communities. This is as it should be.

"I say we are making progress. Listen to a few figures from Ohio in 1922: For the year ending June 30, 1918, arrests for drunkenness were 33,500. For the year ending June 30, 1922, there were 17,635 such arrests. For the same two years there were 10,000 less men sent to the workhouse. There was a decrease of 30 per cent in the number of orphan children sent to state homes. The total fines, penalties and taxes in Ohio, during the fiscal year 1922, exclusive of narcotics, was $136,556.03.

"Let us keep our vision of America—her institutions, her people and her constitution. She has met the stress and strain of war; she has weathered the storm. Keep your visions of our victorious country and be calm."

Similar Cases Being Published in Each Issue.

The following case is but one of many occurring daily in Xenia. It is an easy matter to verify it. You cannot ask for better proof.

J. F. Mellage, shoemaker, 426 W. Second St., Xenia, says: "My back throbbed and ached constantly. Every time I stooped the least bit I got a stab of pain through my back that felt just like a knife cut. When I bent it was hard to straighten again, my back was so knotted up. Mornings I dreaded to get up, I was so stiff and lame. I easily tired and soon became very weak. My kidneys were too free in action and I had to get up several times at night to pass the secretions. Doan's Kidney Pills were so highly praised that I got some. I used about six boxes when I was absolutely cured of the backache and my kidneys again became normal."

DE VALERA AGAINST TRUCE.

Dublin, Feb. 28.—In a letter addressed to the neutral members of the former Irish republican army, Eamonn de Valera declared: "A truce at this moment would be regarded by both sides simply as a breathing spell, in which to prepare for a more violent resumption of hostilities."

DAMAGE CASE IS OPENED IN COURT HERE WEDNESDAY

The case of Charles Snediker, as administrator of the estate of Marjorie Lucille Snediker, deceased, against J. Harvey McClure, receiver of the Indiana, Columbus and Eastern Traction Company, to collect $25,000 damages, opened in Common Pleas Court Wednesday morning.

The plaintiff asks for judgment for the death of Marjorie Lucille Snediker, one of three Osborn High School students killed when their automobile was struck by a traction car last spring. Marcus Shoup and Harry D. Smith are attorneys for the plaintiff and the counsel for the defense includes Corry and Martin of Springfield and C. L. Darlington of this city.

The petit jury hearing the case is composed of J. M. Carper, Heber Douthett, William Trout, Marjorie Moyers, Fred Woolery, James Patterson, Helen Ankeny, George P. Hare, A. L. Bigler, D. F. Beam, George W. Bishop and D. W. Cherry. The jury was impaneled early Wednesday morning and Harry D. Smith for the plaintiff and C. L. Darlington for the defense presented the case to the jury before noon. A number of witnesses have been subpoenaed.

Petition Seeks Partition
Partition of property is sought in the case of Adrain T. Stiles against Thornton Newcomber, the unknown heirs of John Stiles, deceased, the unknown heirs of O. L. Stiles, deceased and Charles Downey, filed in Common Pleas Court. The plaintiff alleges he is entitled to a one-third interest in property composed of 435 square feet of real estate in Fairfield, as heir-at-law and brother of George H. Stiles, who died intestate February 18, 1923. The petition alleged the unknown heirs of John Stiles are entitled to one-third and that Thornton Newcomber is also entitled to one-third interest. Charles F. Downey claims an interest in the property. Marcus Shoup is attorney for the plaintiff.

Two Divorces Granted
Two wives have been given their freedom through a divorce mill in Common Pleas Court. Emma Jenkins has been granted a divorce from Arthur Jenkins on the grounds of gross neglect of duty and is given custody of the children. Florence Alexander has been given a decree from Sam Alexander, on her grounds of wilful absence more than three years.

The divorce action of Lorenzo D. Welch against Nettie H. Welch has been refused in Common Pleas Court because of insufficient evidence and the case dismissed without record.

Case Is Dismissed
The case of John T. Harbison Jr. against George Lelions and others has been dismissed from Common Pleas Court the plaintiff having sold the note and mortgage.

SEEK TO UNSEAT REPRESENTATIVE

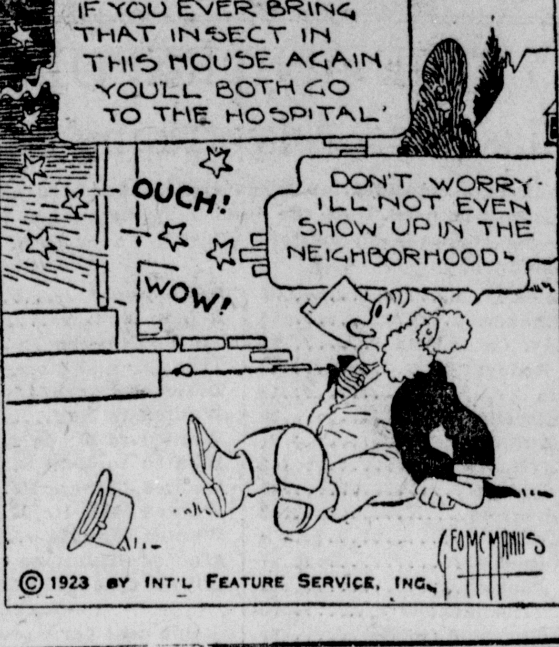

Columbus, Feb. 25.—The legislative investigation into Pike county election case, arising over protest of seating Representative Robert S. Wynn, Democrat of Pike, as a member of the legislature, entered a new phase when the attorneys for Harry L. Foster, former representative and Republican candidate who opposed Wynn, stated they had given up hope of being able to seat Foster.

Judge A. Z. Blair, counsel for Foster, told the legislative investigating committee that he would not ask the seating of Foster because, under existing conditions, it would be impossible for the committee to arrive at any legal determination of the exact vote of the two men. It was indicated, however, that unseating of Wynn will be asked, thereby declaring the office of Pike county representative vacant.

BRINGING UP FATHER

"JUST HOW" TO MAKE RISSOLES

The woman who can make good rissoles is never at a loss to know how to serve meat left-overs attractively. To make eight Beef Rissoles: Put into a bowl one cup of ordinary bread flour; work into this, with the finger-tips, one tablespoon of butter, then wet to a paste with one-half cup of cold water. Toss the dough onto a floured board and roll it one-fourth inch thick in a circular shape. Dot with another tablespoon of butter, breaking the butter into tiny pieces with the fingers and dropping these pieces close together all over the dough. Fold one half the dough over the other half and press the edges so as to enclose air. Roll out again to one fourth inch in thickness. Now dot the dough with still another tablespoon of butter fold it over as you did before and press edges together. Then roll it out much thinner—about one-eighth inch in thickness. Take a cutter which measures five inches in diameter (I use a pot-cover for my cutter, but you can use the top of a coffee can—or anything else of that measurement). Cut out eight round circles then put a heaping tablespoon of the following hash on one half of each circle and fold the other half of the circle over it—like an apple turnover. Wet the edges of the circle so that they will stick together when folded over.

To Bake Rissoles: Take two round layer-cake pans and cover the bottom of each with a circular piece of brown paper. Each pan will hold four rissoles without crowding. Have your oven very hot (if you use a Fahrenheit oven thermometer, have the mercury a little over 500.) And keep the oven hot during the entire 25 minutes which it requires to bake rissoles. They should be brown at the end of this period. Take them from the oven and wrap them at once in a clean towel or napkin. This softens them. They will be tender and flaky after a few minutes in the towel. Serve while still hot.

Hash Filling for Rissoles: For eight rissoles you will need just two cups of cold, cooked meat, measured after being put through your meat grinder. Moisten it with just enough tomato catsup to make a rather dry paste. Season with salt and pepper. Chopped par-boiled onion may be added if preferred.

"TRUST BUSTING" WORK CONTINUES

Washington, Feb. 23.—The "trust busting" activities of the Federal Trade Commission were resumed today when the commission directed the Western Meat Company, of San Francisco, to divest itself of all stock of the Nevada Packing company of Reno, Nev., a former competitor. This action was taken by the commission following the decision by the U. S. Supreme Court Monday in the case of the Aluminum Company of America, in "indicating" the commission has the power under the Clayton act to require corporations illegally acquiring stock to dispose of such stock in such manner as to make it impossible to bring about a monopoly.

MINE INSPECTOR NAMED.

Columbus, Feb. 23.—Appointment of Jerome Watson of St. Clairsville, Democrat, to succeed William Robinson of Jacksonville as chief of the state division of mine inspection, was announced by Herman Witter, state director of industrial relations. Watson formerly held the position during the Cox administration. Witter also announced the appointment of Otto W. Brach of Toledo as chief statistician of the department, to succeed W. J. Belshesheimer of Toledo.

A PURITAN WIFE

By Jane Phelps

CHAPTER XX

Ann's letters from home assured her of her mother's complete recovery, and with the resiliency of youth she once again put her fears and anxieties from her.

The baby was well, as were she and Dick; everything on the ranch was prospering and gradually her fear for the future faded—as so often it had done before.

Dick had planted a poplar tree the day Jack was born, and he said: "It's nip and tuck, Ann, which grows the fastest, which is most healthy," his pride in his little son great.

Ann and Dick both seemed to thrive on hard work, and despite the constant strain Dick was a blithe and optimistic as ever. When Ann pleaded with him to take it easier, to rest, he laughed her off.

"You said yourself we'd have to look out for the little shaver," he reminded her.

"Well, that's just what I'm doing. Doing it pretty well too, if I do say so! Bought the ranch on a shoe string not so long ago. But it's you who made things go right, Ann. You going without things, looking after the accounts, seeing I wasn't cheated, getting in the cash. I guess all this Jack's thanks belong to you."

A hand fell on his shoulder, and Ann whispered:

"It's both of us, Dick, and—love. Love for each other and the darling God has given us." These little ways, serious speeches were a part of Ann, as much a part as her gay moods. Dick loved her in both, so he often told her.

After Grace Edmunds left, and the baby came, they saw Hugh Norton but seldom. Yet Ann was always pleased when he ran in, never had she failed to feel that in him she had a friend.

He was rather quiet on these visits, and once surprised Ann by saying: "You are happy now, Ann?" "Oh, so happy, Hugh—and why shouldn't I be?" she asked. "A darling husband, and a duck of a baby. What more could any woman ask?" "Nothing. I just wanted to be sure."

After he left Ann puzzled a little over his remark, then dismissed it. Probably he thought she might be lonely, alone in the ranch house all day.

That he cared for her never entered her mind, that the pity he had felt when he saw how Grace acted with Dick; his admiration for the brave womanly way she carried herself, had merged into a stronger feeling never would occur to Ann. There was nothing of the flirt about her.

She never looked for or craved admiration from anyone but Dick. He was her man and she was a one man woman.

Ann had no idea how appealing her dainty beauty, her gay spirits, and her rare womanliness were. That she could face trouble with a smile, exert herself to make guests comfortable and happy even when she was suffering, Hugh well knew. But Norton was not the man to come between a happy couple—and he was satisfied now that Ann was happy. Once or twice while Grace was there, he had nearly shown his feeling for Ann, and had she been like many women she could not have failed to understand. But she had not, and Hugh was glad. He could still be her friend still sees her occasionally.

Bessie Prentice had seen, had understood, but wise little women that she was had hidden her knowledge from everyone, even from Ned. She had watched Grace's efforts to win Dick; had seen through her plan to leave Hugh alone with Ann while she practised her wiles upon Dick. "Thank God she went when she did," Bessie often said to herself as she saw Ann's happiness.

She too was the uncomplaining sort and Ned had not been a one woman man, although few knew it. But she loved him, and had chosen to bear with his flirtations—rather than live without him.

But her own sorrow made her very tender with Ann, very anxious she should never have the same experience.

When Grace first came she had feared for her own peace of mind, but after the girl met Dick, Ned seemed no longer to interest her—save as a help to a good time.

All her fascinations were lavished upon the newer acquaintance—the good-looking blonde rancher, who until she came never had cared for anyone but Ann, whose only wish had been to make her happy.

FRENCH STEAMER IN DISTRESS

GERMAN CITY GRIPPED BY REIGN OF TERROR

FEAR OUTBREAK WILL OCCUR IN OCCUPIED TOWN

Populace Said to Be Bitterly Resentful of French Activities

NEW ANGLE VIEWED Franco-German Trust Would Affect United States It Is Said.

Berlin, Feb. 28.—A virtual reign of terror exists at Bochum, according to word from there today. The populace is said to be in a bitterly resentful mood and a serious outbreak is expected.

Berlin, Feb. 28.—Significant "feelings" looking towards Franco-German Ruhr negotiations have been exchanged in Berlin in the last 48 hours, it was learned today.

These "feelings" have an important American angle. Indeed, if the proposition that has been broached should be realized it would mean France would pay its war debts to England and America with shares of a proposed gigantic Franco-German industrial formation. Such a trust is the basis for the secret conferences that have been going on.

It should be emphasized that, according to the best information obtainable by the newspapers, that on the German side these feelers were neither inspired nor participated in by German industrialists.

On the contrary the latter have remained painstakingly aloof from all peace negotiations up to the present juncture. The German banking world, however is understood to be actively interested in the pourparlers.

Discusses Matter. It is learned on the best authority that a prominent Berlin banker discussed the subject with the nephew of a leading French statesman who was sent here as an official French spokesman. The plan as outlined is the amalgamation of the Saar, Lorraine and Ruhr industries under a scheme which it is asserted would go a long way towards solving the Franco-German reparations problem.

France's part in the proposed trust would be state property. France would then turn over a considerable block of its shares in trust to America and England as payment of her war debt. It was learned that when this basis had been tentatively accepted by negotiators a hitch developed over the question of the extent of pooling the industrial wealth. The French demanded that the amalgamation not only cover all the raw materials and semi-finished products but insisted that finished goods be included in the bargain. The Germans objected, arguing that this would be an uneven deal. The Germans claimed German manufacture is much superior to the French. The Germans held that the deal should include raw materials and possibly semi-finished products but should end there. The next few days are expected to show how tangible and practicable the above feelers have been found by both sides.

Essen, Feb. 28.—All the best hotels, cafes, restaurants, shops and theaters at Bochum were closed and French soldiers in armored cars are holding all the streets leading to the shopping centers.

A French general declared that orders had come from the Berlin government for a boycott of the French, and that as a result all the telephone and telegraph communications had been cut. So the French officials closed the postoffice as punishment for the merchants, who were responsible for the hostilities. The French, said this general, decided if the Germans would not sell to the occupying forces, they would not be allowed to sell to anybody. A complete blockade was declared by the French.

It was reported that 400 Belgian troops entered Emmerich, a German port on the right bank of the Rhine, and also occupied the customs office at Beek, near the Belgian-Dutch frontier.

The international commission has decided that the military sentences imposed by the tribunals in the Rhineland will be served in allied prisons instead of German jails.

AUTO DRIVER HELD.

Cleveland, Feb. 28.—Earl Fumell, driver of an auto in which Frank Lamb, Akron, was burned to death, was bound over to the grand jury on a manslaughter charge. The machine caught fire after an accident here. Other occupants of the car escaped. Judge Silbert fixed bail for Fumell at $4,000.

TURKEY AGREES TO ACCEPT ALL TREATY TERMS

Angora Government Plays O. K. On Lausanne Document

PEACE SEEMS CERTAIN

Britain Ignores Request for Six Months' Delay For Answer

Constantinople, Feb. 28.—The Angora government has agreed to accept the Lausanne treaty with the exception of the financial and economic clauses, according to Turkish advices from Angora.

Earlier advices from Angora had said that although the economic clauses of the treaty provided an obstacle the outlook for a favorable settlement was better today. Many of the officials believed peace is assured. Ismet Pasha discussed a proposal with the cabinet that the treaty be signed with the stipulation that the economic and financial questions be reserved for discussion after six months.

Turkish troops encamped opposite the British lines at Ismid are reported to have sent this message to the British: "If you hear firing don't be alarmed as we merely will be celebrating the signing of peace."

London, Feb. 28.—Foreign office officials announced today that Great Britain would make no reply to the Turkish proposal that a six months' delay be granted on the financial and economic terms of the Lausanne treaty until the proposal is officially presented.

SAY JEALOUSY CRIME MOTIVE IN NEW YORK

Woman Believed Wilful Murderer of Wealthy Eastern Contractor

New York, Feb. 28.—Desperate efforts to secure the release of Mrs. Anna Buzzi, held as a material witness in the murder of Frederick Schneider, on a writ of habeas corpus will be made this afternoon by James Donnelly, her counsel.

New York, Feb. 28.—Jealousy of a woman over attentions paid by Frederick Schneider to an employee in his office is believed by police to be an important factor in the chain of events which led to the mysterious murder of the wealthy contractor, whose body was found seated in his car on a lonely road in the Bronx Monday evening.

This fact was learned today when detectives assigned to the investigation revealed that they had discovered that Mrs. Anna Buzzi, held under $25,000 bail as a material witness in the case, became furious when she learned that he had taken one of his girl employees riding.

They also disclosed that in small memorandum book found on his body Schneider had written: "She threatened to throw hot soup in my face. I've never heard a female use such vile language."

There was nothing in the book to show whom the note concerned. While operatives are pursuing this clue and also investigating the history of the .38 calibre Colt revolver, which has been traced from the factory to the state armory at Toledo, O., Mrs. Buzzi paces the floor of her cell, alternately raging and weeping.

When she learned of the statement made by Harry Shidrowitz, who with Nicholas Fuelner, a farmer, was the last person to see the death car on the evening of the murder, Mrs. Buzzi became frantic.

"I saw Schneider's car moving out toward Clason Point road about 4:30 o'clock," Shidrowitz had said, Anna Buzzi was driving. We did not speak."

"He's a liar—he's a liar," the woman shrieked.

U. S. WILL NOT BE HELD UNDER LEAGUE COURT

State Department Answers Borah Resolution Asking For Information.

IS NOT COMPULSORY

Arbitration of International Disputes Will Be Optional.

Washington, Feb. 28.—The United States has no intention of going into the world court of justice, set up at the Hague under the League of Nations, on a "compulsory arbitration" basis, it was officially declared at the State Department today with reference to the Borah resolution, asking for more information concerning the plans of President Harding and Secretary of State Hughes.

Neither it was stated, does the United States contemplate any negotiations with foreign powers toward an agreement to submit all international disputes to the league court.

Senator Borah's request for "more information" concerning the administration's plans, which is backed by the members of the foreign relations committee generally, will be fully complied with, it was said at the department. Secretary Hughes holds the opinion that "compulsory arbitration" is neither desirable or possible in view of the traditional policy of the United States. Also, it was pointed out the big world powers have not agreed to submit all their disputes to the league court, and there is little likelihood of their doing so.

CHICAGO MAYORALTY RACE NARROWS DOWN TO TWO CONTESTANTS

Lueder or Dever Will Win Position, Returns Indicate

Chicago, Feb. 28.—The next mayor of Chicago will be either Arthur C. Lueder, Republican or Judge William F. Dever, Democrat.

Yesterday's primary election showed that Lueder won by a commanding vote in the four-cornered G. O. P. race. Judge Dever had no opposition.

William Hale Thompson, the incumbent, did not enter the race. Friends of both Lueder and Dever today predicted victory for their candidate in the April mayoralty election. Chicago is normally Democratic, although its present mayor, Thompson, is a Republican.

The Republican race for the mayoralty nomination was an interesting affair. Lueder polled nearly 43 per cent of the Republican vote. He topped Edward R. Litsinger, his nearest rival, by 54,144. Arthur M. Millard, head of the Masonic bureau of service and employment, finished third and Judge Bernard P. Barasa, the "beer and wine" aspirant fourth. The vote was:

Lueder 128,704; Litsinger 74,560; Millard 51,054, and Barasa 46,690. The total Republican vote was 301,008.

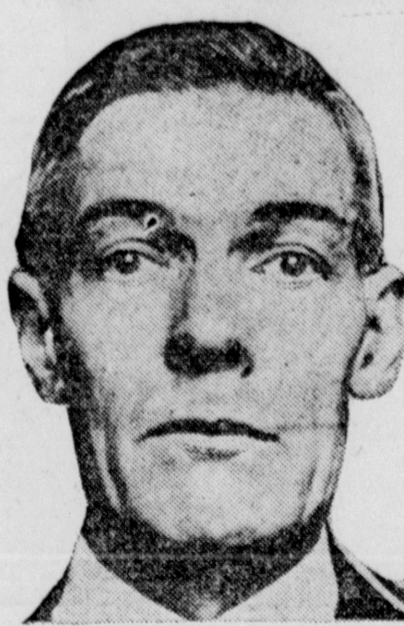

The Democrats gave Judge Dever a complimentary vote of 165,351.

The selection of the socialist party was William A. Cunnea.

FIGURES IN DRY LEAGUE INVESTIGATED

F. E. Cartwright.

Col. Ransom Gillette.

Ex-Senator Brackett.

W. H. Anderson.

William H. Anderson, New York State Superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, is the central figure in two important investigations. One is being made by the District Attorney, in New York City, into charges that Anderson forced fund solicitors to "split" their commissions with him. The other is an Albany investigation into charges that the Anti-Saloon League is a political body and should therefore be compelled to make public accounting of its receipts and expenditures, about which there has been so much secrecy. The Rockefeller, who formerly practically supported the league, have withdrawn financial support from it and have demanded that Anderson make complete accounting. Frank E. Cartwright, of Corning, New York, brought about the second investigation through his attorney Col. Ransom Gillette, World War hero, charging that he was beaten for the Assembly by the influence of the League. Ex-State Senator Brackett is Anderson's attorney.

FIRE AGAIN SWEEPS OVER RESORT AT BUCKEYE LAKE

Origin of Blaze, East of Park Unknown—Loss Estimated at $68,000—Six Cottages Are Destroyed Early Wednesday

Newark, O., Feb. 28.—Fire of unknown origin starting in a corner of the sixty-room apartment house, at Buckeye Lake shortly after midnight last night destroyed six cottages and badly damaged a seventh, together with contents, entailing a total loss of $68,000. There is no fire fighting apparatus at the lake, and the volunteer firemen, two hundred in number were helpless to combat the flames. The structures, all modern, and belonging to Charles Klotz, were reduced to ashes. The location of the fire is just north of the figure eight and east of Buckeye Lake Park.

The sixty-room apartment in which the fire started, was valued at $26,000. The contents are said to have been worth $10,000. Four two-story cottages valued at $4,000 each, and one of these occupied by William Johns and family of six, and a sixteen-room cottage, occupied by Mrs. Virgil Voorhees and four children were all reduced to ashes, together with the contents.

This is the biggest fire that ever visited Buckeye Lake and the second big blaze in the past month, which coupled with the fire before the cyclone, and the cyclone itself, all within nine months has entailed a loss of a million dollars. Mr. Klotz left this morning for Columbus to buy a fully equipped electric pumper, which he will place at the disposal of residents at the lake as there is no other means of fighting fire except the small extinguishers. Outside help was impossible owing to the impassable condition of the roads between this city and the lake.

INCREASE IN CRIME EXPECTED TO FOLLOW CUT IN LIGHTING

Suburban Areas of Cincinnati To Suffer Curtailment

Cincinnati, Feb. 28.—Booms in the sale of flashlights, lanterns and torches, perhaps with an increase in crime, are expected to be among the results that will accrue to Cincinnati because of a rule decreed by the city authorities to cut lighting service in the suburban areas.

Facing a deficit of approximately $250,000, Service Director Charles F. Hornberger has ordered 4,934 street lights to be discontinued, hoping thereby to effect a saving of $58,299 before the end of the year.

Moonlight will be the only aid to belated pedestrians in residential districts, as in certain suburbs as many as 48 lights are to be shut off. Half the lamps on all bridges and viaducts, as well as numerous small lights at crossings, will be affected by the order of Director Hornberger.

The business sections will escape the darkening process, as boulevard lighting systems are supported by merchants independently of the city. The director announced that the next efforts at extreme economy would be made in regard to the garbage removal, which may involve more serious phases because of state laws regarding pollution of streams, including the Ohio river.

SCORE ARE KILLED IN TRAIN WRECK

JAMMED IN ICE NEAR HALIFAX: CALLS FOR AID

American Passengers on Vessel Fast in Northern Waters on Wednesday

WATER SUPPLY LOW

Fuel Becoming Exhausted; Government Boat Goes To Rescue.

Halifax, Feb. 28.—The French steamer Pro Patria with several American passengers aboard has sent out S. O. S. calls. She gave her position as 70 miles south of St. Pierre. She has been for four days jammed in an ice field and has lost three blades of her propeller and suffered other damages. The message stated:

"The supply of fresh water is low and her supply of fuel is running low."

The government ice breaker Stanley has gone to her assistance.

The Stanley a dominion government boat, was sent to the Pro Patria's assistance at the request of American consul Gonsalus, who had been appealed to by the governor of Miquelon, following the failure of the steamer Sable to reach the disabled vessel.

It will take two and a half days for the Stanley to reach the Pro Patria.

HARDING SIGNS SMOOT-BURTON DEBT MEASURE

President's Signature Concluding Act of Official Actions

Washington, Feb. 28.—President Harding today signed Smoot-Burton bill under which Congress approved the plan by which Great Britain will pay her $4,600,000,000 war debt to the United States during the next 62 years.

The president's signature was the concluding act in the long string of official actions necessary to the settlement of the greatest single war debt.

The president signed the bill, as soon as it reached the White House from the capitol. There was no ceremony.

Negotiations for funding the big British debt to the United States were conducted here between Chancellor Stanley Baldwin of the British exchequer, Governor Norman of the bank of England and the American debt commission, headed by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon. In establishing the debt commission congress had stipulated that all of the money owed this government by European powers—approximately $11,000,000,000—should be paid within 25 years and that it should draw interest at not less than 4 1/2 per cent.

The British representatives immediately objected to the high rate of interest and the comparatively short maturity date and after various funding plans were discussed, an agreement was reached under which Great Britain will pay 3 per cent interest for the first 10 years and 8 1/2 per cent thereafter until the debt is extinguished.

LEGION HEADS SEEK REFORMS FOR VETERANS

Washington, Feb. 28.—"Humane" treatment of ex-service men, cutting of useless "red tape," speeding up of adjustment of compensation claims and other reforms in the administration of the veteran's bureau, will be demanded by national officials of the American Legion, spokesmen for the legion declared here.

This declaration came close on the heels of the announcement from the white house of the nomination of Brigadier General Frank T. Hines, former regular army officer, to succeed Colonel Charles R. Forbes as director of the bureau.

National Commander Owsley arrived in Washington and announced that a conference of legion heads would be held to outline the reforms to be demanded, which will be presented to the new director probably Thursday, the day he is due to assume office.

Legion men are frank in stating that they are not pleased with the appointment. It is not that they object to General Hines personally, but they object to any regular army officer heading up the bureau. They contend that the mixing of "army red tape" with the "red tape" that already handicaps the smooth running of the bureau will tend to complicate rather than clarify the operations.

It was intimated that there will be a wholesale house cleaning in the veterans' bureau when the new director takes charge, not only in the Washington offices, but in the several district offices over the country.

The selection of General Hines, it was learned, was made on the recommendation of General Pershing, who, as commander of the American expeditionary forces, had opportunity to observe his ability as an organizer and executive. As head of the transport division of the army General Hines moved more than 2,000,000 troops to France in 18 months and returned them in eight months.

General Sawyer, the president's physician and head of the hospitalization committee, urged the appointment of Dr. Hugh T. Scott, former executive officer of the bureau, who recently was demoted and placed in charge of a soldiers' hospital in Oklahoma by Director Forbes. Dr. Scott also had the endorsement of a number of legion leaders. Legion spokesmen declared they would continue to insist on a full and complete investigation of the bureau, particularly concerning rumors of graft that have been prevalent in recent weeks.

SHIPPING BOARD TO SELL FLEET; 400 CRAFT UP

Washington, Feb. 28.—Failure of the senate to act on the shipping bill has decided the Harding administration to liquidate the business of the shipping board, sell its 393 ships and put the American merchant marine entirely into private ownership, the white house announced.

This policy will be carried out before congress reconvenes.

The white house spokesman said the president is frankly and very greatly disappointed that the senate, with a normal majority in favor of the shipping bill, could not function so as to express itself. But the administration, it was stated, will not permit the failure of the senate to "put it in a state of pique or pettiness." It will do the best it knows how without the aid of congress and the best that can be done under a policy of liquidation, to further the American merchant marine in private hands.

What was said at the white house outlines a program which Chairman Lasker of the shipping board characterized as a project which would be "as novel as it would be surprising, but nevertheless practical."

It can be said in advance of any official announcement, on the authority of one of the president's closest advisers, that the great feet of ships now controlled by the United States shipping board will be sold to private interests at amazingly low figures. This will be hard on the United States treasury, it was admitted, but it was pointed out that it was the only effective substitute for a subsidy in aid of an American merchant marine, under whatever ownership, which could be devised.

Sale of the 393 ships now under the flag of the shipping board at prices far below their cost, it is considered, will offset the losses endured by American shippers in competition with British and other shipping interests that are able to operate at lower costs by reason of the higher American standard. Chairman Lasker said that he would make public the detailed program of the liquidation plan Monday morning.

AUTOS WIN LAST GAME

By Wones

The Witte-Reliables of Dayton failed to live up to the advance word handed out about them and the result was that the fast Autos of this city, swamped them by a 48 to 27 score, in the main mill at the Central High gym Tuesday night.

The game had not been under way very long when Barlow looped one through followed up by another. Solimano tossed one and Barlow caged two in rapid succession, while Koester threw a long one and Barlow snagged another before the visitors broke the ice when Wirtz caged one. With Barlow and Solimano hitting the net the famous gang soon piled up comfortable lead. The only doubt connected with the game was just how large the score would be. When the timer's whistle blew ending the first half the locals were on the long end of a 27 to 12 score.

The second half was a little better exhibition. The Witte came back strong and with Davis and Wirtz looping the net frequently they scored 15 points while the Autos made just one better. The passwork and basket shooting of Coach Haller's pill tossers was the feature of the game. Barlow and Solimano were the stars for the locals with 8 fielders apiece. Koester counted 3 times from the field while Koehly and Solowitz each caged one. Davis, Brek and Wirtz were the stellar performers for the Reliables.

Lineup and summary: Famous Autos—48. Witte—27. Barlow R. F. Wirtz Solimano L. F. Bonadio Koester C. Davis Koehly R. G. Brek Solowitz C. Wirtz. Field goals: Barlow 8, Solowitz 3, Koester 3, Koehly 1, Solowitz 1, Wirtz 2, Brek 3, Davis 6, Bonadio 1, Foul Solimano 1, Wirtz 1. Referee: Rachford.

Coach "Shifty" Bolen's re-enforced outfit made short work of the much touted Antioch five, which had won considerable recognition by victories over Ohio Wesleyan, University of Dayton and other teams. The old rivals furnished an interesting game, ending brilliantly. This led ran up 22 points, ten of them from the free throw line. "Fuzz" Vannorsdall, former Central High star of this city, contributed 14 points to his team's total. The lineup and summary: Antioch—22. Wilmington—24. Weston L. F. Zeigler Vannorsdall R. F. JERSEY MAN BUYS "HAREM" FOR $100

New York, Feb. 28.—Frank Menussa, twenty-five years old, of Homestead, N. J., is looking for the stranger from whom he bought a harem of six pretty girls and for which he paid $100 in cash.

Frank was seated in a trolley car at Hoboken when a nice-looking stranger spoke to him and called his attention to two pretty girls whom he said were part of his harem. He had four more at an address at No. 45 Hill street, Homestead, he explained and that he was forced to leave them because he was called away on a trip to the West.

Would Frank buy them? Frank would and did. He handed over $100. As he did so he noticed that the two girls across the way were leaving the car. The stranger assured him that they were not running away; that they were simply timid because they had left their veils behind. Frank believed and exulted in his purchase until he tried to find No. 45 Hill Street. There was no house within sight.

Frank now believes he was flimflammed.

WOMEN TENNIS STARS ARE NOW RACING FOR NEW CHAMPIONSHIP; WORLD'S POOREST SPORTSMANSHIP

Monte Carlo, Feb. 28.—Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory, of the United States and Mlle Suzanne Lenglen, of France, women tennis champions, are racing for a new championship—that of the world's poorest sportsman—in the opinion of tennis fans gathered here today for the Riviera tournaments.

Mrs. Mallory, putting forth the alibi of bronchitis, postponed signing an entry blank until the last minute. On the day after Mrs. Mallory entered Mlle Suzanne withdrew from the singles, giving the excuse that her heart was bothering her again.

Mlle Lenglen told friends that her ankles were bothering her also. There was sarcastic comment in the Monte Carlo hotel lobbies that Suzanne's heart and ankles probably would improve after she learned of Mrs. Mallory's poor showing in the opening match. The American woman had a difficult time defeating Miss Hewitt, an English girl. The scores were 14-12; and 7-5.

The bill has been amended in the House so as to provide that, if the tax duplicate is increased by reappraisals of property, limitations shall be reduced from 17 and 14 to 15 and 12 mills, making the county budget commission consist of the county auditor, treasurer and prosecuting attorney, as at present and making more liberal the restriction on bond issues for road purposes.

Styles BY LENORE

Lingerie collars, which have been conspicuously absent from the mode for some time, are coming back into prominence. Only the severest necklines have until now been smart, now the neck of the most modish frock may be relieved by the softening influence of a crisp organdy collar with embroidered points. A bateau neckline may adorn itself with an embroidered net collar created expressly for this type, and there is a deep bib collar for the frock that is worthy of the bateau line. This model, too, is of net, trimmed with fringe lace. And last of all—and newest—is the lace kerchief, which should make the simplest frock a thing of charm.

FEDERAL RESERVE BOARD ADVOCATES CO-OPERATIVE PLAN

Urges it as Best Solution of Problem That Have Grippled Farming

Washington, Feb. 28.—The Federal Reserve Board, nerve center of the country's financial structure, today came out flatly in favor of cooperative marketing as the one best method of relieving distress that has gripped agriculture for the past two years.

In its annual report to congress today, the board said; cooperative marketing offered the best solution of the difficulties faced by American farmers, and that it must be accomplished through relaxation of present banking laws governing farm credits.

The board reported that it has not been possible for the Federal Reserve System to extend the measure of credit relief to the farmer that was needed, in circumstances of acute distress, because of the iron-clad restrictions of the Federal Reserve act. The board urged that Congress do something immediately to ameliorate the situation. The board believed the broad provisions of the Capper bill would meet the situation allowing rescission of farmers' paper for longer periods of time.

Acting Gov. Edmund Platt informed Congress that the farmer has suffered the greatest loss of all classes in the country's industrial structure and must have a more adequate share of credit possibilities.

Reviewing the country's progress, Gov. Platt placed especial emphasis upon the farmers better showing in the last few months, because as he suggested, the farmers' spending power means progress all along the line of business activity. The farm value of most of the important crops was larger than in the previous year, owing both to greater yields and higher prices.

But farm prices still are out of line with other prices, Platt said, pointing out that the farmer today must pay more for what he buys than any other elements of the country, because the product of his labor will buy less in proportion to that of other classes. The farmer's disadvantage today was thus explained:

"Incompleteness of agricultural revival as compared with recovery which has recently taken place in the industrial world is partly explained by the disorganization of European markets, since the price of agricultural products are more dependent on export demand than prices of other classes of commodities."

A final rehearsal Tuesday evening, completed arrangements for the representation of the "Phi Delit Follies of 1923," to be given at City Hall Theater Wednesday night for the benefit of the people who were unable to attend either performance last week.

Owing to the unusual seat demand for the second night of the first engagement, the management agreed to give the production a third time Wednesday night. The representation is being greeted by a hearty seat sale and there is every indication that another large attendance will mark the final showing of the "Follies."

HOUGH NAMED U. S. ATTORNEY FOR OHIO SOUTHERN DISTRICT

Judge Benson W. Hough, of Delaware, was named United States attorney for the southern district of Ohio by President Harding Wednesday, according to dispatches out of Washington.

The appointment of Judge Hough to this position has been prophesied among politicians for some time and it was practically conceded that he would receive the appointment because of a number of candidates being considered when the vacancy was presented.

Judge Hough is a brother-in-law term on the Ohio State Supreme Court bench. His record as a soldier during the World War gained him considerable popular acclaim, as he was Colonel of a Regiment of Ohio boys in the famous Rainbow Division, which won honors overseas.

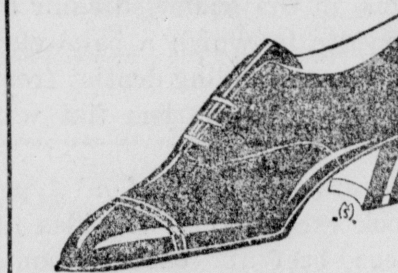

Judge Hough is a brother in law of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Wolf of North King Street, this city, and due to his frequent visits here is well known in this city.

MR. ANDREW ARNEY,
GROVE CITY, OHIO.

Suffered Half His Life from Stomach Trouble. Found Great Relief from Taking Ka-di-ok.

Mr. Andrew Arney, a well-known resident of Grove City, O., whose occupation is that of caretaker at Greenlawn Cemetery, where he has been employed for the past nineteen years, is another Ka-di-ok convert. In reciting his experience with this remedy, he says: "I have had more or less trouble with my stomach for the past thirty years and have tried everything that I thought would help me, but nothing I ever took did me as much good as Ka-di-ok. It certainly has helped me wonderfully. Before taking Ka-di-ok a few weeks ago, I never ate a meal without suffering from gas or pains from indigestion. I have been eating good meals lately and enjoying them, and so long as I took a dose of Ka-di-ok afterwards I have felt all right and have had no trouble with my stomach at all. I am stronger and feel better than I have done for a long time. I sleep regularly and get up rested. Ka-di-ok has been a blessing to me, and I would not be without it for anything. I may not find it necessary to take it all the time, but I am perfectly willing to do so if it continues to help me the way it has done. My advice to any stomach sufferer is to try Ka-di-ok. I feel very confident they will not be disappointed."

SOUL WINNING IS TOPIC TUESDAY AT TRIANGLE MEETING

A marked increase in the enthusiasm was characteristic of the Triangle Evangelistic service Tuesday night at the First Reformed Church. The attendance was increased also in spite of the unfavorable weather.

A testimony service featured the opening moments, after which Rev. R. E. Brown, pastor of the Baptist Church read the scriptures and Rev. Furstberger of the Friends Church led in prayer.

Reports from the cottage prayer meetings indicated a good attendance and interest at these homes of prayer. The enthusiasm at the afternoon hour at the meeting for women, led by Mrs. Stewart, and for the children led by Mr. Stewart was intensely interesting.

Rev. W. E. Middleton was the preacher for the evening, and chose as his theme, "Resources of Power for Soul-Winning," using as the basis of his sermon the words of the woman at the well, as she conversed with Jesus, saying, "The Well is Deep."

The preacher emphasized the fact that the one business of the church and Christian people is to be soul-winners, and the power for such work is found only through Jesus, who is the source of all power, and in whom the fullness of the Godhead dwelt bodily. He named four essentials to securing this power or soul winning:

"1. Prayer. It was prayer that gave the early church success. It was prayer that enabled the Master himself to win. The great victory of Calvary was preceded by his greater victory on his face in Gethsemane, as he prayed, 'not my will but thine be done.' Prayer through His name, means victory, for it pleased the Father, that in Christ, all fullness should dwell. The Church shall advance only as she advances on her knees.

"2. A recognition of the Holy Spirit in the believer, for with His presence, victory is assured, and without Him, nothing can be accomplished. It is the Holy Spirit's presence and power that transforms life.

"3. The Word of God, for the gospel is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth.

"4. Personal Testimony. Every Christian witnessing to the power and blessedness of this great salvation, telling others. No revival has ever come without such witnessing, and it will come again when as His witnesses we tell what he has done. This is the Divine method.

Following the sermon, Mr. Stewart sang, "The Story of Jesus, can Never Grow Old."

Cottage prayer meetings were held during the forenoon as announced in the press and Thursday they will be held in the following homes: Mrs. H. H. Fawcett, 196 W. Market Street; Mrs. W. L. Miller, N. Detroit Street; Mrs. J. J. Stout, 392 Hill Street; Rev. W. H. Tilford, 102 E. Market Street. Neighbors and friends are invited to these meetings.

AMERICA'S PROBLEM, DECLARES HAYNES, IS LAW ENFORCEMENT

Columbus, Feb. 28.—"The greatest problem confronting America today in my humble judgment, is the positive and definite determination by this generation of Americans whether, or not, we are able to make and enforce our own laws," declared Federal Prohibition Commissioner Roy A. Haynes, appealing to Ohioans to co-operate with the federal prohibition enforcement officials, Commissioner Haynes asserted that the state and federal forces should have the loyal co-operation of officials in the smaller political subdivisions.

"Ohio has been a pioneer in advancing many features of new legislation," he continued. Legislators of this state have put into concrete form much such legislation when still untried in other parts of the country.

"Law never leads civilization but always follows in its wake. But the relations of men to each other precede even law," Mr. Haynes said. "As a people we have nothing to fear from without. No great foreign foe is preparing to jump at us with sudden ruthlessness. The enemy that is to be feared is a subtle one. One that, under a guise of non observance of the law, threatens to undermine the very fundamentals which have been responsible for the growth, prosperity and happiness of our country.

"We cannot permit the open violation of any specific law without at the same time fostering the spirit of anarchy that will eventually hold all law in contempt and disrepute.

"That it is difficult at this hour to enforce prohibitory laws we do not deny, and that there are violations of the law we do not doubt. To nullify the prohibitory laws or to repeal them will cure no evils that arise from the liquor traffic, but you will set a precedent and make it more easy to nullify any law.

"Under the eighteenth amendment, the states and federal government have concurrent power in its enforcement. All but two of the states have adopted appropriate legislation and assume their part of the responsibility. Mayors of cities, county prosecutors, chiefs of police, governors of states and other local officials are co-operating with the federal authorities more and more.

"This co-operation is my appeal to Ohio, I am confident that very soon these various forces will become better co-ordinated and that very rapidly the larger cities will begin to assume their part of the burden as well as your country communities. This is as it should be.

"I say we are making progress. Listen to a few figures from Ohio in 1922: For the year ending June 30, 1918 arrests for drunkenness were 33,800. For the year ending June 30, 1922, there were 17,455 such arrests. For the same two years there were 10,600 less men sent to the workhouse, there was a decrease of 20 per cent in the number of orphan children sent to state homes. The total fines, penalties and taxes in Ohio, during the fiscal year 1922, exclusive of narcotics, was $136,556.03.

"Let us keep our vision of America—her institutions, her people and her constitution. She has met the stress and strain of war; she has weathered the storm. Keep your visions of our victorious country and be calm."

Mornings I dreaded to get up, I was so stiff and lame. I easily tired and soon became very weak. My kidneys were too free in action and I had to get up several times at night to pass the secretions. SEEK TO UNSEAT REPRESENTATIVE

Columbus, Feb. 23.—The legislative investigation into Pike county election case, arising over protest of seating Representative Robert S. Wynn, Democrat of Pike, as a member of the legislature, entered a new phase when the attorneys for Harry L. Foster, former representative and Republican candidate who opposed Wynn, stated they had given up hope of being able to seat Foster.

Judge A. Z. Blair, counsel for Foster, told the legislative investigating committee that he would not ask the seating of Foster because, under existing conditions, it would be impossible for the committee to arrive at any legal determination of the exact vote of the two men. It was indicated, however, that unseating of Wynn will be asked, thereby declaring the office of Pike county representative vacant.

the circle over it—like an apple turnover. Wet the edges of the circle so that they will stick together when folded over.

To Bake Risssoles: Take two round layer-cake pans and cover the bottom of each with a circular piece of brown paper. Each pan will hold four risssoles without crowding. Have your oven very hot (if you use a Fahrenheit oven thermometer, have the mercury a little over 500°). And keep the oven hot during the entire 25 minutes which it requires to bake risssoles. They should be brown at the ends of this period. Take them from the oven and wrap them at once in a clean towel or napkin. This softens them. They will be tender and flaky after a few minutes in the towel. Serve while still hot.

Hash Filling for Risssoles: For eight risssoles you will need just two cups of cold, cooked meat, measured after being put through your meat grinder. Moisten it with just enough tomato catsup to make a rather dry paste. Season with salt and pepper. Chopped par-boiled onion may be added if preferred.

"TRUST BUSTING" WORK CONTINUES

Washington, Feb. 23.—The "trust busting" activities of the Federal Trade Commission were resumed today when the commission directed the Western Meat Company, of San Francisco, a Swift and company subsidiary, to divest itself of all stock in the Nevada Packing company of Reno, Nev., a former competitor.

This action was taken by the commission following the decision by the U. S. Supreme Court Monday in the case of the Aluminum Company of America, in "indicating" the commission has the power under the Clayton act to require corporations illegally acquiring stock to dispose of such stock in such manner as to make it impossible to bring about a monopoly.

A PURITAN WIFE

By Jane Phelps

CHAPTER XX

Ann's letters from home assured her of her mother's complete recovery, and with the resiliency of youth she once again put her fears and anxieties from her.

The baby was well, as were she and Dick; everything on the ranch was prospering and gradually her fear for the future faded—as so often it had done before.

Dick had planted a poplar tree the day Jack was born, and he said: "It's nip and tuck, Ann, which grows the fastest, which is most healthy," his pride in his little son great.

Ann and Dick both seemed to thrive on hard work, and despite the constant strain Dick was a blithe and optimistic as ever. When Ann pleaded with him to take it easier, to rest, he laughed her off.

"You said yourself we'd have to look out for the little shaver," he reminded her.

"Well, that's just what I'm doing. Doing it pretty well too, if I do say it! Bought the ranch on a shoe string not so long ago. But it's you who made things go right, Ann. You going without things, looking after the accounts, seeing I wasn't cheated, getting in the cash. I guess all little Jack's thanks belong to you."

A hand fell on his shoulder, and Ann whispered:

"It's both of us, Dick, and—love. Love for each other and the darling God has given us." These little ways, serious speeches were a part of Ann, as much a part as her gay moods. Dick loved her in both, so he often told her.

After Grace Edmunds left, and the baby came, they saw Hugh Norton but seldom, yet Ann was always pleased when he ran in, never had she failed to feel that in him she had a friend.

He was rather quiet on these visits, and once surprised Ann by saying: "You are happy now, Ann?"

"Oh, so happy, Hugh—and why shouldn't I be?" she asked. "A darling husband, and a duck of a baby. What more could any woman ask?"

"Nothing. I just wanted to be sure."

After he left Ann puzzled a little over his remark, then dismissed it. Probably he thought she might be lonely, alone in the ranch house all day.

That he cared for her never entered her mind, that the pity he had felt when he saw how Grace acted with Dick; his admiration for the brave womanly way she carried herself, had merged into a stronger feeling never would occur to Ann. There was nothing of the flirt about her.

She never looked for or craved admiration from anyone but Dick. He was her man and she was a one man woman.

Ann had no idea how appealing her dainty beauty, her gay spirits, and her rare womanliness were. That she could face trouble with a smile, exert herself to make guests comfortable and happy even when she was suffering, Hugh well knew. But Norton was not the man to come between a happy couple—and he was satisfied now that Ann was happy. Once or twice while Grace was there, he had nearly shown his feeling for Ann, and had she been like many women she could not have failed to understand. But she had not and Hugh was glad. He could still be her friend still sees her occasionally.

Bessie Prentice had seen, had understood, but wise little women that she was had hidden her knowledge from everyone, even from Ned. She had watched Grace's efforts to win Dick; had seen through her plan to leave Hugh alone with Ann while she practised her wiles upon Dick.

"Thank God she went when she did!" Bessie often said to herself as she saw Ann's happiness.

She too was the uncomplaining sort and Ned had not been a one woman man, although few knew it. But she loved him, and had chosen to bear with his flirtations—rather than live without him.

But her own sorrow made her very tender with Ann, very anxious she should never have the same experience.

When Grace first came she had feared for her own peace of mind, but after the girl met Dick, Ned seemed no longer to interest her—save as a help to a good time.

All her fascinations were lavished upon the newer acquaintance—the good-looking blonde rancher, who until she came never had cared for anyone but Ann, whose only wish had been to make her happy.

THE CHEERFUL CHERUB

Although I fill a modest space
It's not the way I want to be.
I do not flee from fame at all—
It's fame, alas, that flees from me.
